The Sands of Time

When most people return from a beach vacation, they vacuum all the sand from their car. Wally and Lill Malinowski, on the other hand, have bottled samples of sand from all their travels over the years and display the resulting mementos proudly in their home.

The first sample was from Club Med in Eleuthera, Bahamas. It's in a bottle they found on the beach, and the sand is a beautiful shade of pink. The resort closed in 1999 following extensive damage from Hurricane Floyd. The last one, number 67, was collected on a family trip to Cancun, Mexico in 2018.

Lill & Wally agree; their favorite is the first one.

Detail of four bottles.

Lill told me she has five favorite trips: to Maui, Hawaii in 2000, to French Polynesia, to Tahiti main island, to Waikiki Beach in Hawaii in 2008, and to Grand Turk in 2010. They both agree that their very favorite is that first bottle with the pink sand from Eleuthera.

Looking over the list of bottles, I noticed many exotic locales. Such places as: Martinique, Bora Bora, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Tahiti, Hawaii, New Brunswick (Fundy National Park), Grand Cayman, Grand Turk, St. Maarten and Mexico are represented, as well as many states: Alaska; Arizona; California; Florida, of course; Michigan; New Jersey; Long Island, NY; and Utah. Several Great Lakes also appear: Huron, Superior and Michigan. Jupiter is represented, among the many beautiful Florida beaches, but not Hobe Sound.

I really love this imaginative collection of vacation memories. They're unique, beautiful in and of themselves, and creatively organized and displayed. The variety of colors, textures and bottles is very attractive. It's a pleasure to chat with Lill and Wally about their island adventures over the years, starting before they had a family. And I have to say, the display of bottles are so much more fun to look at than a bunch of 35 mm slides or home movies!

Howdy, Neighbor!

The late Mr. Rogers had a much-loved theme song that included these lyrics:

*I have always wanted to have a neighbor just like you,
I've always wanted to live in a neighborhood with you.
So let's make the most of this beautiful day,
Since we're together we might as well say,
Would you be mine?
Could you be mine?
Won't you be my neighbor?
Won't you please,
Won't you please?
Please won't you be my neighbor?*

One of the many pleasures of living in The Retreat is the chance to greet and chat with our many neighbors. Whether we're out for a walk, a bike ride or a drive, there's always a chance to wave hello, pet the variety of dogs (and a large bird) that we encounter, and compare war stories of our latest medical adventures. We often joke that a 30 minute bike ride easily turns into 45 minutes or longer because of these encounters.

But we also have neighbors that we rarely see or greet. They may be elderly, housebound, they may not have a dog to walk, or they may be new residents or snowbirds.

Stay tuned for a new feature in the next issue of the Retreat Newsletter. We're going to interview a Retreat resident to find out a little more about them, what makes them special. If you have a candidate in mind, please drop me an email with the details.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT THE WOMEN'S CLUB

by Mona Wiley

We have been treated to some great speakers recently. Ken Dara gave a very interesting presentation on a special technique in fish painting. His results are beautiful and inspired us to try the art form. I think I'll just purchase one at one of our local art shows!

Another treat was a beautiful day and a beautiful and informative tour of the Indian River Lagoon. Not only was the history of that area interesting, but a pod of dolphin followed us, performing as we motored around. Even mama and baby were jumping and swimming by the boat.

Look who's at lunch at Taste Restaurant in Hobe Sound. Always a nice setting and good food and service.

In April, a trip to the Historic McKee Botanical Garden in Vero is planned. It will be a 1 hour guided tour with lunch at the Garden Café. The tour starts at 11:00 am on Wed., April 27th. The cost is $15 for the tour and $21 for lunch. As always, sign up in the mailroom and watch for further details such as directions to the gardens and when to pay up. Carpooling is a good idea too.

The favorite spring fashion show will be held the 3rd Monday in March in the Clubhouse. Our models will delight us with gently used clothes and accessories from Style Encore. Come and get some wardrobe ideas!

Our April meeting will be a potluck salad and dessert evening. This is always a great evening of enjoying each other's company and trying all the delicious salads that you provide. Come on out any newcomers and join the Women's Club events. You are all welcome!

Dues are due! $25 will sign you up. Fill out the registration sheet and you are set for another year!

Hop To It....

The clicking sounds of knitting needles can be heard in the Knot Just Knitting meeting in the clubhouse, as well as in the knitters' homes. The knitters embarked on a charitable endeavor in late fall 2021. They are busy knitting bunnies, and some elephants, for the children in SafeSpace, a shelter and support organization for victims of domestic violence in Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River counties.

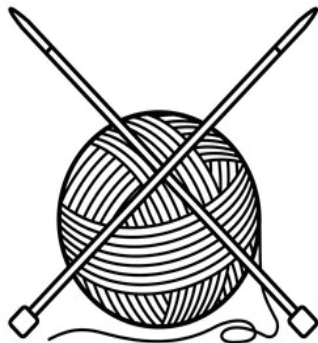

The initial delivery was of 13 knit critters which were quickly given out to children. Children who arrive at the shelter often come in the middle of the night and without familiar toys. The knitters hope that giving a new hand-made snuggly to a child can also bring comfort. So when you hear clicking needles, realize that a bunny is hopping into a child's arms.

The 29 bunnies in the photo of the latest delivery have already increased to 30 and will continue to increase quickly because... well...you know bunnies!

Hello Dolly!

Dolls were my passion and inspiration to my Fashion Design Career. It started when my Grandma Piotrowski gave me a box of white Kleenex, red thread and red buttons. A few hours later I presented a collection of white dresses, coats (with set-in sleeves) and hats, all accented with red buttons, thread and a red crayon print, for my Ginny Doll. She could not believe what I made; she was one of the strongest supporters of my talent.

Dolls are an inspiration for all the people and cultures in the world. I still collect them and recently handmade a collection of six dolls titled The Egg Cushion.

Spring Time Treasure Hunt

Sunday, April 10, 2022

We will be having a Treasure Hunt throughout the neighborhood, followed by an Italian dinner. Teams will gather at the clubhouse (you can form your own team of 4 or be assigned to a team at the door) A beginning clue will be handed out, sending the teams all around The Retreat. The first team back will win the Treasure! The game will be followed by a sit- down dinner in the clubhouse. A car or golf cart per team is needed as you will go all around the neighborhood.

If you don't want to participate in the Treasure Hunt, you are welcome to just come for the dinner. The game will begin at 3:00 pm and dinner will follow at 5:00 pm.

There will be a sign-up sheet posted in the mailroom. If you are interested in participating, please sign the sheet. We will not be pre-selling tickets. A $5.00 per person fee will be collected at the door the day of the event. All are welcome, even if you didn't remember to sign up.

Good Place to Take a Rest!

The sitting bench to the right of the clubhouse door has been uncomfortable to sit on for awhile now. Some seat bolts were either loose or missing. Hank Stasiewicz fixed this bench and made it comfortable again for sitting. He replaced all the bolts with strong carriage bolts. Before Hank finished the job, the HOA handyman arrived to assist in the repair. Thanks for being a good neighbor, Hank!

The Retreat at Seabbranch for Pickleball

The Retreat Sizzlers finished up a great season of our sport by holding a Gala Holiday Party at Christmas time for players and significant others in the Retreat Community's Clubhouse. And what a turn-out it was! There are some executive chefs among us, for sure, and a few adult beverages got all into the holiday spirit. On court there is competition, but this night the challenge was for the best and funniest joke. There were many. All had a great time.

And, as our winter residents have returned, competition is back these weeks on our courts with fine weather and full gatherings. Shortly we will plan an on-court awards morning for those that have ranked in playing Pickleball to the fullest, as we include those that have prospered as new players to the sport.

The Retreat Sizzlers welcome new resident players. We play as mixed doubles in our matches with many players on our courts. The courts are the scene of healthy competition on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning, from 8:00 AM until about 11:00 AM.

I want to thank the readers who contributed to this issue. I learned that a collection can consist of one item, and was interested in the pride and skill involved in restoring classic cars.

Next issue, please share your favorite restaurant with the rest of us. What makes it special, and what are your favorite dishes? We're lucky to live in an area of many fine restaurants, with lots of variety.

Please send a paragraph or two about your favorite eatery, and of course a picture or two is always appreciated. Please email your contributions to:

Pieces of Eight

My husband gave this to me on Valentine's day many years ago and figured out that he and Dominic Addario lived in sister towns in Massachusetts and went to at different times! This coin is very special to me because it is a piece of our Florida heritage. I love it and wear it most of the time.

Beautiful Pendant

In 1987, two surfers fell off their boards one day and saw what they thought was a cannon and reported it to a lifeguard. Two days later, while on his morning training swim, the lifeguard refound the cannon and contacted a master mariner and marina owner, Captain Dominic Addario, who had equipment capable of recovering the find. They agreed to form a joint venture to recover it. Their initial goal was simple. They resolved to put the cannon at a museum about to open in Burt Reynolds Park, sponsored by the Loxahatchee Historical Society. During those first weeks, further discoveries were made. More cannons were identified, then . . . silver "pieces of eight."

Neither of the two partners knew at the time that the laws governing discoveries such as theirs were approaching a major change, or that the two of them could play an instrumental part in the formulation of new rules that would affect the future rights of the private sector to participate in historic shipwreck research and recovery. Captain Addario placed an Admiralty claim upon the unknown vessel in the U.S. Southern District Court on the 27th day of July, 1987. A bond was posted to the Court, and Jupiter Wreck, Inc., a newly formed Florida corporation, was subsequently named Federal Substitute Custodian of the wreck site.

San Miguel Archangel

More cannons and artifacts were discovered. Rare coins of silver and gold were retrieved, then a 78-pound ingot of silver! The State of Florida stepped in to assume jurisdiction, claiming it was in the wreck's and public's best interest. The public didn't totally agree, neither did the Federal Courts. Jupiter Wreck's legitimate claim was upheld by the Federal Judge, but the State's rights were also recognized.

The Wreck

The crew had to dig with their bare hands while all issues were pondered. SAN MIGUEL ARCANGEL Dispatched by the Viceroy of Peru, the San Miguel Archangel sailed as primer aviso under Juan Ramirez de Miranda, pilot Diego García and Captain Juan de Ostalaca from Portobelo for Spain on September 18, 1659. Six and half months later, the ship had not arrived in Spain and was feared to have wrecked. It was decided to send duplicates of all the correspondence on the next aviso to Spain in April 1660.

BLACK BETTY

This is my baby; it took forever to complete. She is a 1938 Chevy Master Sedan Delivery. I looked for this one forever.

I've loved cars since sitting on my Dad's lap driving to get more beer. My love of cars started early, learning to drive on Dad's lap.

I usually have two projects (one to fix, one to drive) so I have something to work on. This is probably the last one; it's just a cruiser.

Bridge

or

Bridge

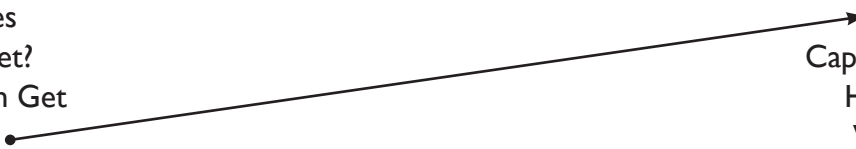

Yes, the one on the right is correct!!! WE NEED BRIDGE PLAYERS!!

Welcome to our many new residents in the Retreat. Whether you've been here awhile or you moved here recently, our Bridge Club needs some new players to enhance our Tuesday and Thursday groups that play from 1-4:00 PM. There are many of you out there who like to play bridge. There are many of you who are shy and need an invitation. This is your invitation. You don't have to share your life story – just come play. It's a nice activity to get yourself out of the house, as well as a fantastic exercise for your brain functions. It doesn't matter about your level of play – we want YOU! New players will learn. Middle level players will get better, and advanced players can gently guide those who need help. We are reorganizing after many years of play. If you'd like more information about this activity, please contact Geri Strong 772-285-1312 or Carol Flynn at 772-546-4118.

How well do you know your advertising slogans? If you watch a lot of TV, this one should be pretty easy. Just match each slogan on the left to the corresponding organization on the right. I've given you an easy one to get you started. Good luck!

Cars and Trains

Since I was six years old I have had a fascination with cars and trains. Coming from Westchester County and literally “only 45 minutes from Broadway,” we frequently rode the train into the city for shows, the circus, the auto show, the Lionel showroom on 23d Street and other events. It was no surprise to my parents then that I began early on to ask for Lionel trains and slot cars as gifts. I played with them endlessly. I also started to collect them; hence this article.

I have liquidated most of my Lionel trains over the years but still have eight complete sets, locomotives and other items including those on display in my built-in, shown in one of my pictures. In addition and also shown are over 200 1:32 scale electric slot cars also on display, taking up a complete wall in our home.

When I was old enough to drive, I graduated into bigger toys: Real Cars. I have had a dozen performance cars during my life, including the one I now have, a green 1969 Dodge Dart GTS 440. It's a completely restored car (done by the second owner in 2001) with a 4-speed and a 560 HP 472" 440 motor. I have had it since 2006, and you may have seen me tooling around the Retreat to and from various cruises and car shows and hanging out with the many other Retreat classic car enthusiasts. You'll hear me coming well before you see me.

I spend summers in NY and the rest of the time here, and my Dart comes with me, so I am essentially enjoying it year-round (much to the dismay of my old NY friends whose cars are bundled up for the winter). I hope you enjoy the pictures. If you want to see the actual car, just contact me. I'm in the book. —Charles Borrelli

Ladies Bible Study in The Retreat Clubhouse

All ladies of The Retreat and their guests are welcome! The Study is led by resident Kate Stine and is held weekly on Wednesdays from 10:00 – 11:30 AM. Each week there is a video presentation, discussion, prayer and fellowship.

One of the most important activities each week is prayer. The ladies are encouraged to submit prayer requests on an index card which Kate then includes as she offers up those prayers along with the list of ongoing needs. She says that “we are excited to see God answer our prayers and happy to be part of a group who prays with and for each other.”

On January 12th, a new series began called “Become a Transformed Woman,” by Darlene Wilkinson. It will run through March 9th. After that, a new series will begin although the topic has yet to be selected. With each new series Kate puts descriptive flyers in the mailroom on the windowsill. She hopes that you will come and be part of something so special and says “it’s clear that a need is being met in our community as 12-18 ladies typically attend. Even if we are in the midst of a series you are welcome and you don’t have to commit to coming each week.”
